Dear Rick,

Thanks for doing such a great job on both my websites www.moneytimepeople.com and www.growandmanageyourbusiness.com. The integration of the shopping cart into my book website went really well and people started ordering my book Money, Time and People... will kill your business, almost immediately.

In an environment where I hear many horror stories of designers being high priced, slow to respond and failing to understand what the client wants and needs, it is refreshing to do business with someone of your caliber and integrity. If you say you will do it, it gets done fast! And that is impressive.

So impressive in fact, that I have referred two of my clients to you. It is very rewarding to hear back from both of my clients that you have given the same quality, high value and rapid turn around that you have provided to me.

One told me that their newest client decided to do business with them after visiting their website and commented on the professional design.

Please continue in doing what you are doing, providing high quality, fast response and an affordable price. These things are so rare in today's world,

Sincerely,
